Bank Technology News Names Digital Check to “10 Technology Companies to Watch”

--Recognized for offering small businesses affordable check scanners for remote deposit capture--

Northfield, Ill., June 10, 2008 – Digital Check, a leading provider of desktop check scanners for the remote deposit capture and branch automation industry, was named one of Bank Technology News's “10 Technology Companies to Watch,” featured in the June 2008 issue. The company is recognized for creating an innovative new check scanner that is both affordable and efficient for small businesses.

Digital Check's newest low-cost check scanner, CheXpress, provides small businesses and merchants with high quality images and exceptional MICR accuracy of higher priced scanners in a user-friendly design. In addition to functionality, the check scanner supports green initiatives with low power consumption, remote shutdown capabilities and Energy Star compliance. The smaller footprint of CheXpress also takes up less desk space and features significantly quieter operation, a benefit for small businesses.

“We are honored that Bank Technology News recognizes Digital Check as a top technology company to watch for 2008. We strive to always listen to the needs of our customers in developing innovative, new and affordable products for financial institutions and their customers,” said Tom Anderson, president and chief executive officer of Digital Check. “The small business remote deposit sector represents an opportunity for financial institutions to expand their customer base and serve a growing market.”

Digital Check also offers financial institutions financing options that eliminate the upfront costs of implementing remote deposit capture. RDC QuickStart™ gives resellers and their financial institution customers a flexible financing option with low monthly payments to help accelerate adoption of distributed check capture applications.

Bank Technology News' annual ranking of the "10 Technology Companies to Watch" profiles innovative companies focused on technology segments of greatest interest and potential promise to financial institutions.
